Receive special greetings from your beautiful child Babrah in the name of the father the son and the Holy spirit she loves being at school and at the project because she learns much in Sunday school and she also enjoys being with her friends at school. Both her and the person were very happy to have you as their special friend in their lives. Below is what your child can draw and write she also says that May God richly bless you in the name of the father and the son.

I know how to draw
